THE WALRUS AND THE CARPENTER BY LEWIS CARROLL

HELLO FEATHERFINS!

*...Goin' to the chapel and we're... gonna get married!
Goin' to the chapel of looooooove!*

It's SEPTEMBER, FeatherFins! Can you believe it? And I'm getting MARRIED!

But before we talk about THAT - can I just say how much fun the whole pod has had this August?? It was certainly busy, but it was so much fun! We loved spending time with all of you at the Kenai State Fair in Ninilchik! Thanks to all of you excellent DuckDippers, we were able to raise $275 towards getting the things needed to start Mermaid University this winter! We still have a ways to go, but are super excited at the progress made!

After that, I had the chance to be in the Alaska State Fair parade on the 21st and spread a little FrostbitFins Mermaid love to the Valley! Then we celebrated two years of hard work with the Susitna Rotary as they had the Ribbon cutting celebration for the Lil' Susitna Rotary Park Pavillion! What a beautiful space you created!

Then we joined Josh the Otter again for another parade for Houston's Founder's Day celebration! It was a busy day, and I was a bit parched, so I hopped into the dunk tank to help the club raise some funds for the High School football team, the Houston Hawks! For a tiny town, they sure throw one SPLASH of a party!

This month, as you know, AnneMeridia and her pirate, Abe, are getting MARRIED! The whole pod is preparing for the big event, which happens on September 17th. We will be posting photos on our Facebook and Instagram, so be on the lookout for those! Afterwards, the happy couple will be headed off on their honeymoon, so there will be no appearances in September, but we look forward to seeing you all in October!

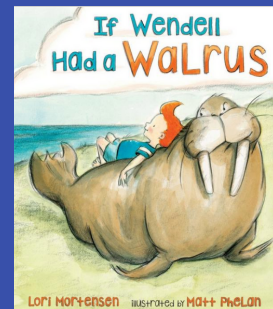

In the meantime, the online store is open with all of our merch, and Cad-re Feeds is carrying our Munchie's now too, along with the soaps, bath bombs - and our NEW Shampoo bars, too! And Fletcher will be posting every Friday too, as he gets into mischief around town, meeting new friends!

See you in October!

with Mermaid wishes and Starfish kisses!

SEPTEMBER FIN FACTS WITH

THE WALRUS

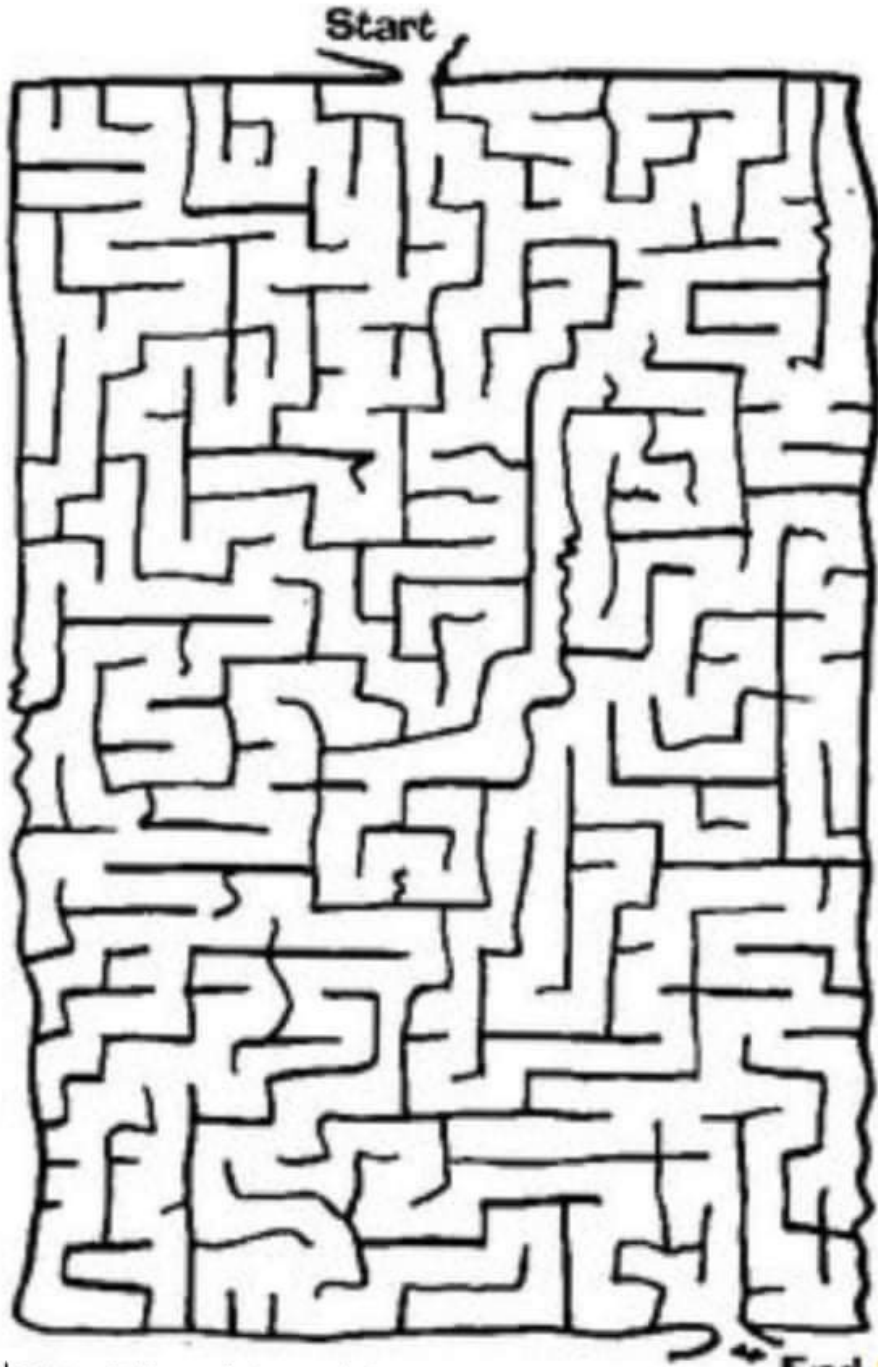

- Both male and female walrus have large tusks.
- There are two species of walrus- Atlantic and Pacific.
- Atlantic walrus make up only 20,000 of the 250,000 total walrus population.
- A group of walrus is called a herd. The largest herd is the Foxe Basin herd in Canada at 5,000 strong.
- Walrus are rarely found in deep water.
- Walrus are very sensitive to noise and scare easily.
- A walrus tusk can grow as long as 3 feet!
- The scientific name for walrus is odobenus rosmarus, which is Latin for "tooth- walking sea-horse".
- Walrus look like they have a thick bushy mustache because of their whiskers.
