

The Jellyfish Edition!

If not a star who makes
everyone glee,
Be a jellyfish and glow
in the dark blue Sea.

a Message from the Mermaid and the Frostbitfins Pod

Happy November and welcome to Volume TWO of our FeatherFin Flyer!

Holy narwhals! Can you believe we have been doing our newsletters for a whole year already? That's 12 issues - this is number 13! - of goodies and coloring pages and activities and Sea Facts and Sea Friends. We are so happy you all enjoy our little flyer and are ever thankful for the continued support of Frostbit Fins and our mission to provide Mermaid Magic to all of you, our fans. Last year we promised we were about to ramp it up and we have - visiting with all of you, working on our safety programs, developing our merch, and spreading mermaid joy wherever we go- thank you for being a part of the FrostbitFins pod!

In October we were thrilled to be part of the Kenai Pumpkin Festival, as well as two Trunk or Treats - at the Boys and Girls club and North Peninsula Rec Service Area! Mermaids Astra and AnneMeridia love to see all of you and can't wait to do it all again! Follow us on Facebook and Instagram @frostbitfins to see where we are going to pop up next!

We have great things coming up that are in the works, and I couldn't be more excited to share them all with you! So stay tuned, and have a fantastic November - we'll see you soon!

With Mermaid wishes and Starfish kisses,
Your Seafriend, AnneMeridia
and the FrostbitFins pod

We love to see our Teacher FeatherFins too!

LET'S READ!

Spencer and Vincent:
The Jellyfish Brothers

by Tony Johnston

When two jellyfish brothers are separated at sea it takes all of the ocean's creatures to help them reunite in this heartwarming tale of brotherly love.

NOVEMBER FIN FACTS WITH

JELLYFISH

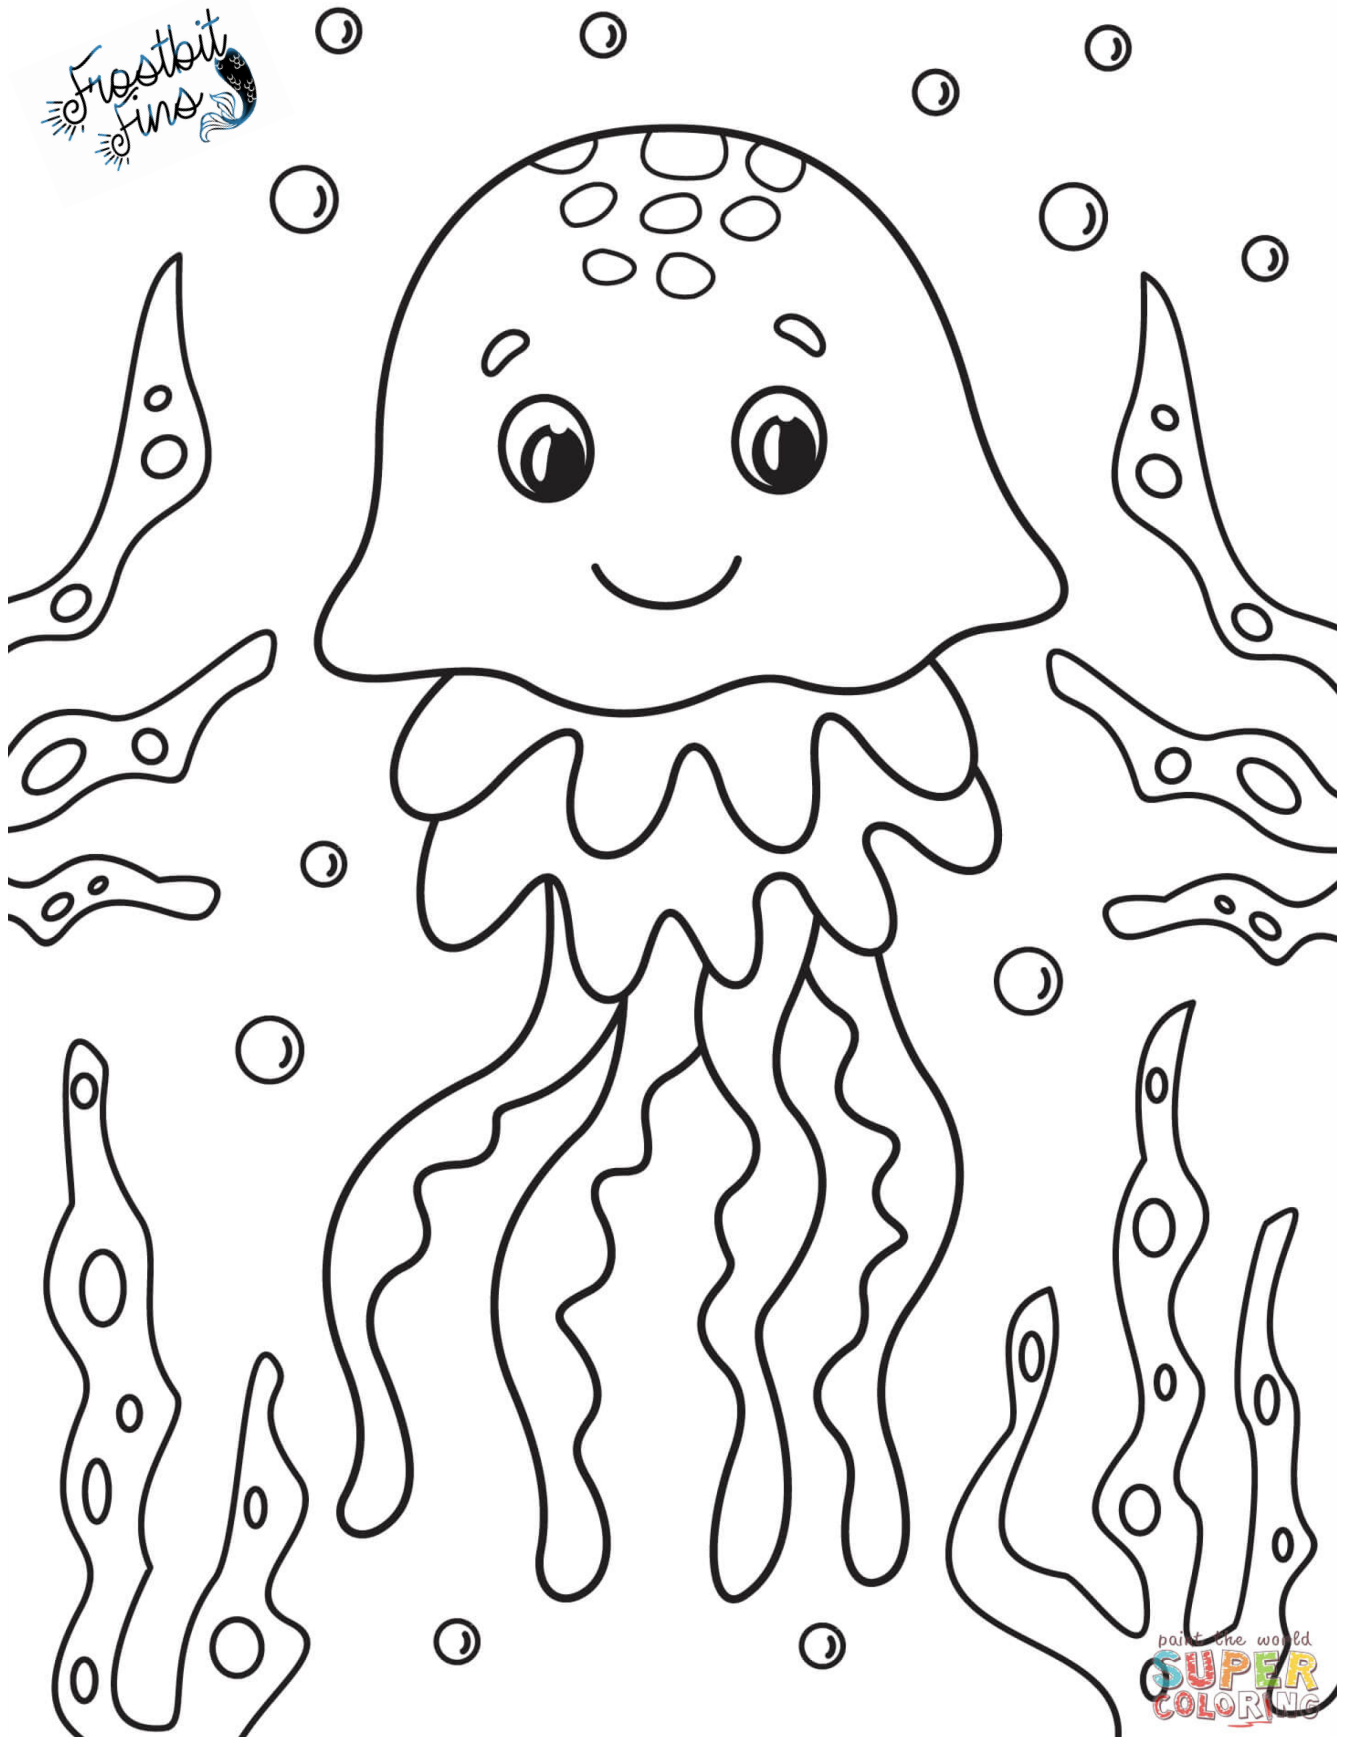

- Some jellyfish glow in the dark. Their light startles predators.
- Jellyfish don't have brains. They do not have blood, bones, or a heart either.
- Not all jellyfish have tentacles.
- Some jellyfish are brightly colored, while others are so clear they are nearly invisible to humans.
- A group of jellyfish is called a bloom.
- A large bloom can have as many as 100,000 jellyfish in it!
- Even though their name says it, jellyfish are not a fish (they are not jelly either 😊).
